

Foster Family Intro

What foster youth entering our home should know...

This worksheet is to introduce the _____ family. The address of the home is _____ and the phone number is _____.

Residents:

The number of people who live in this house is _____. These are their names and ages:

The number of pets who live in this house is _____. The names and type of animals are:

The reason we decided to become foster parents is: _____

Besides being parents, other jobs (occupations) of the foster parents are:

Stuff we do:

On the weekends, we sometimes like to: _____

Games we like to play: _____

The kinds of chores kids in our house do: _____

Hobbies and activities of people in this house: _____

House Rules:

These are the three most important house rules:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Here are some other important house rules:

Curfews in this home are:

Weekdays (school days): _____ Weekends: _____

Bed time on school nights: _____ Bed time on weekends: _____

Other silly little things:

We would rate the cooking here:

- | | |
|--|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> As good as any restaurant | <input type="checkbox"/> Hit and miss |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Healthy | <input type="checkbox"/> Fairly good, depending on the day of the week |

Kitchen privileges:

- You are free to help yourself to anything in the kitchen at anytime
- We'll point out the food that's okay for snacking
- Please ask before helping yourself

Cool stuff to do that's near our house

Our welcome message to you:

for your information

Attention Adults:

This form is provided to help facilitate an introduction to youth entering your home. You might ask the youth to fill out the companion form "About Me". We hope that this form provides a launching pad for discussion, preferably around a kitchen table with a friendly mug of hot chocolate.

For more information about FYI3 forms or to download additional forms, visit www.fyi3.com a non-profit website for foster youth who want to be informed, involved and independent.

Permission granted to copy for unlined use as long as information on the form, including credits, logos, and the message, remains unchanged.
©2002 FosterClub, Inc.

foster youth
informed, involved, independent

